

Title Index

SAVE TIME WITH THE TITLE INDEX

To find the most useful references and find them quickly, you may wish to answer these questions:

Should I be using this index?

If you already have a title, yes.

If you don't—or if you think you may need additional data products—see the introduction to the Subject Index. Also, for a bird's eye description of many titles, see the chart in the Product Overview chapter, pages 11 ff. In addition, a list of titles in each chapter appears before the chapter's introduction.

How can I find the titles I need?

To find abstract numbers (not page numbers) for titles—

Check alphabetically “word by word.”

Ignore the first word if it's a definite article (“a”, “an”, or “the”) or a year.

What titles will I find here?

You'll find almost every data product (followed by its abstract number) that the Census Bureau issued from mid-1993 through 1994—including:

- Every title that heads up an abstract.
- Most titles that appear in lists—for example, specific industry series—and titles that appear in each chapter in a section entitled “Data Products Issued October-December 1994.” There's one big exception: many abstracts list States and other geographic areas. We don't list them here.
- Most “umbrella” titles. For example, we cite “Current Industrial Reports,” a general title that refers to many series, with the general reference, “971 ff.”

You also will find titles and information about 1990 census products, including ones issued prior to mid-1993, in figures 42-44, pages 193-198.
